TODAY MORE THAN EVER...

employers and employees recognize the value of employee assistance programs and services. The rapid pace, unrelenting pressures, and continuous changes in workplaces throughout the world reinforce the need for effective employee assistance services and the concurrent demand for education, training, and development of employee assistance professionals.

EAPA (Employee Assistance Professionals Association) is the leading provider of information, support, and services for employee assistance professionals and others interested in behavioral issues affecting employers and their employees. EAPA can help you as you meet the complex needs of the workplace of today and the challenges of tomorrow.

ABOUT EAPA

EAPA is the world's largest and oldest membership organization for employee assistance professionals, with approximately 5,000 members in over 30 countries around the world. The association hosts an annual conference, publishes the Journal of Employee Assistance, and offers training and other resources to enhance the professionalism of its members.

Membership in EAPA allows you to stay current with the latest developments in the field, broaden and sharpen your skills, increase your business contacts, and meet and share ideas with your colleagues. By joining EAPA, you invest in yourself ...and your future.

EAPA'S MISSION

To promote the highest standards of practice and the continuing development of employee assistance professionals, programs, and services.

EAPA MEMBERSHIP— POSITIVE RETURN ON INVESTMENT

Membership in EAPA yields a host of benefits, including...

EDUCATION AND TRAINING: EAPA's professional development activities include year-round in-person and online training, workshops, and information sessions to enhance your skills and career development.

PROFESSIONAL CERTIFICATION: EAPA sponsors the Certified Employee Assistance Professional (CEAP®) credential, the only credential that denotes mastery of the body of knowledge and commitment to the ethical standards required for effective employee assistance practice.

JOURNAL OF EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE: EAPA's quarterly magazine, available to members only, provides in-depth looks at the important issues, trends, and best practices every employee assistance professional needs to know.

WORLD'S LARGEST AND MOST COMPREHENSIVE ANNUAL EA CONFERENCE: Each year, EAPA hosts the world's premier conference devoted to employee assistance and related issues, bringing together over 1,000 professionals and organizations to network, recharge, and share their knowledge and experience.

PROFESSIONAL NETWORKING OPPORTUNITIES: EAPA's education and training activities, annual conference, and worldwide network of chapters and branches offer local, regional and international opportunities to gain the tools, information, and contacts you need to build your skills, add value to your services, and enhance your career.

PUBLIC POLICY AWARENESS: EAPA monitors, analyzes, and informs members about important public policy issues that may affect employee assistance practice at local, state/provincial, national, and international levels; and when appropriate, informs and educates policy makers about issues important to members and the profession.

EXPANSIVE NETWORK OF CHAPTERS: EAPA's more than 90 chapters and branches throughout the world provide close-to-home professional education opportunities and offer members a forum to meet, give and receive support, and share knowledge and experiences with other professionals who understand what they do for a living.

MEMBER-ONLY ONLINE RESOURCES: The EAPA website provides up-to-the-minute employee assistance related news gathered from sources worldwide; online interactive tools such as the SAP qualifying examination, EAP Career Central, and the key field searchable provider and member directories; as well as white papers, useful handouts, and other information to enhance employee assistance services and members' careers.

GLOBAL CONNECTIONS: As companies become multinational in today's global economy, they look for and rely on international employee assistance capabilities. EAPA's international membership and presence in over 30 countries allows you to find qualified colleagues and services wherever you need them – and it allows them to find you!
